Bloomington Insider

Cece Cope

Cece Cope is the Lead Volunteer at the Normandale Japanese Garden.

When's the best time to visit the Normandale Japanese Garden?

The garden is open every day from sunrise to sunset, April through October. The college is closed on weekends year-round, so restrooms are limited when the buildings are closed. Visitors should park in the West Parking Lot (Lot 3, access from Collegeview Road).

Are there any 'secret' or less obvious spots that you recommend visitors seek out?

The 2-acre garden is designed as an open plan around a large lagoon with three islands and four bridges. Near the waterfall, steps lead to an upper level where you can see the entire garden and, as borrowed scenery, the 20-acre pond it was reclaimed from. The pond's herons, egrets, swans, and red-winged blackbirds complete the idyllic view.

What do guests seem most surprised by when they visit?

Guests especially enjoy the koi. There are koi food machines near the garden gate—bring two quarters to feed them!

The Great Outdoors

Nature lovers will feel right at home—nearly a third of Bloomington is preserved parkland.

Hike, bike, fish, or bird watch at the Minnesota Valley National Wildlife Refuge, one of only a few urban wildlife refuges in the country.

Find serenity at the Normandale Japanese Garden, a tranquil 2-acre escape with koi ponds and curved bridges.

In winter, hit the slopes at Hyland Hills Ski Area for skiing, snowboarding, and tubing.

Families won't want to miss Richardson Nature Center, where kids can meet raptors and reptiles and explore vibrant sculptures and exhibits that celebrate Minnesota's ecosystems.

Your Best Day Ever at MOA!

A young girl with short brown hair, wearing a pink sleeveless top, is the central figure. She is holding a large, plush toy of a sea creature, possibly a lionfish or a similar patterned fish, with orange and white stripes. She is looking upwards with a wide-eyed, curious expression. In the background, the dark silhouette of a large aquarium tank is visible, with some light reflections on the water surface. Other people are seen in the distance, some walking and some standing near the tank. The overall atmosphere is one of wonder and excitement.

SEA LIFE at Mall of America®

As you'll quickly discover, Mall of America® (MOA) is so much more than a mall. With nearly 500 retail stores, hundreds of restaurants, and dozens of attractions—plus fashion shows, concerts, celebrity appearances, and other events—a visit to MOA is always an adventure.

After all, this is Minnesota, where things happen in a big way. We're the North Star State—home of Lake Superior, the world's largest freshwater lake, and International Falls, the coldest city in the continental U.S. We're proud to be the birthplace of the Mississippi River and Paul Bunyan, the towering lumberjack who inspired our legendary Log Chute ride in Nickelodeon Universe®.

But there's something else about America's northernmost state, a quality that has helped make MOA one of the most visited destinations in the country. Deeply rooted in Minnesota's plucky pioneer culture, it's a special kind of neighborliness that makes people feel instantly welcome, even if they've never been here before. Equal parts kindness, generosity, and thoughtfulness, this hometown hospitality is at the heart of our guest experience.

Whether you're planning to ride the Pepsi® Orange Streak roller coaster in Nickelodeon Universe, soar above iconic landscapes at FlyOver America, build your imagination at the LEGO® Store, take a VIP tour with an award-winning storyteller, stare down a giant shark in SEA LIFE at Mall of America® (Minnesota's biggest aquarium), or shop tax free at our signature mix of international fashion brands, national stores, and local boutiques, we look forward to helping you experience your best day ever at MOA. →

Describe Nickelodeon Universe in three words.

Wacky fun times.

What's your favorite ride in the park?

My favorite ride is the Pepsi Orange Streak—it's a classic. Plus, it gives you a nice view of the whole park.

Are there any hidden details or 'insider secrets' guests might not notice?

I love all the plants in the park, which are real, of course (some might not know that). Very easy to miss is the pineapple plant growing near the exit of the Fairly Odd Coaster. The pineapple plant was donated by an MOA employee who was struggling to grow it in their own home garden, so they gave it to us to try and grow. And it seems to be doing well!

What's something people would be surprised to learn about keeping the park running smoothly?

Every morning, there's a full-time groundskeeping staff who come in to tend to all of MOA's beautiful flowers, plants, and trees. They do incredible work! Caring for all the plants is not easy, but they are a dedicated team.

Daniel Jasper

Meet Daniel Jasper, a two-decade Mall of America® employee and chief MOA storyteller and strategic advisor.

How long have you worked at MOA?

Like many Minnesotans, I first visited Mall of America when it opened in 1992 and was instantly hooked. After hundreds of visits, I started working here 20 years ago. In between co-hosting the 'So Much More' podcast and giving Official MOA® Tours, I love putting on my favorite red suit and playing Santa during the holidays.

What can visitors expect from an Official MOA® Tour?

Our behind-the-scenes VIP tours reveal fascinating details about the Mall, including the chair marking the longest home run and the original home plate from Metropolitan Stadium and our North Pond, where wishes really do come true. You'll also see what's behind the Log Chute ride and explore our three massive holiday warehouses.

What unique experiences can visitors find during the holidays?

No visit to MOA during the holidays is complete without a tour of Candy Cane Institute, where you can discover Santa's secret office, see the 'Let It Snow' machine, and test yourself on the NON 1225 (Naughty or Nice) machine. It's a fun experience full of laughter and surprises!

What are some visitor tips?

Take advantage of the free hotel shuttles, wear comfy shoes, stay hydrated, and tag @mallofamerica for a chance at a shoutout!

Bloomington Insider

Debbie Estes

Debbie Estes is the EVP of Minnesota Sports & Events (MNSE) and Ancillary Events.

How does MNSE work to bring major sporting events to the Twin Cities?

We seek events that bring strong economic and reputational benefits to the region. With premier facilities, dedicated volunteers, and passionate fans, the Twin Cities is ideal for hosting top-tier sporting events. Visit mnsportsandevents.org to learn more.

How do these events impact the local economy and community?

The fans and visitors stay in hotels, dine at our restaurants, and shop at our stores. There is also a legacy component to the major events that benefit our community, especially our youth.

What's the most exciting or memorable event you've helped bring to Minnesota?

Every event I have participated in is my favorite at that moment: the Super Bowl, the Men's and Women's Basketball Final Fours, the Big Ten Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments, the USA Olympic Trials for Gymnastics, and now the World Junior Championships. Fans, whether they have tickets or not, can enjoy the excitement by attending free events where they can meet sports legends, try new activities, and experience the warmth of our community. We are creating a place where people want to live, work, and raise families.

Getting Around

Thanks to Bloomington's close proximity to the Twin Cities, everything the metro has to offer is easily accessible. Stay in Bloomington to take a trip to Mall of America® (MOA) by car or a 13-minute light rail ride from Minneapolis-Saint Paul International Airport (MSP). Or you can venture to Minneapolis and Saint Paul for nearly endless dining, nightlife, and entertainment. Interstate 494, Interstate 35W, and Highway 77 run right through Bloomington, so getting where you need to go is quick and simple. No matter your preferred method of travel—light rail, rental car, bus, or other—you can count on seamless travels during your stay in Bloomington.

Driving Directions to Mall of America

From West: 94 East to 494 South to Highway 77 South. Exit on Killebrew Drive or Lindau Lane.

From East: 94 West to 494 South. Exit on 24th Avenue.

From North: 35W South to 494 East. Exit on 24th Avenue.

From South: 35W North to 494 East. Exit on 24th Avenue.

Light Rail

On the METRO Blue Line and Green Line, there are 37 stops to explore. The Blue Line heads northbound from Mall of America Station—which links directly to the east entrance of the Mall—through the airport and Minneapolis neighborhoods. The Green Line travels east from Minneapolis into Saint Paul. Both light rails bring you through downtown Minneapolis, near U.S. Bank Stadium and Target Field. Fares must be purchased at Metro Transit stores or stops before boarding the train. Schedules are available online and at most stops. A brisk 13-minute ride from the Mall brings you to the airport, and a 30-minute ride reaches Minneapolis. For more information, visit MetroTransit.org.

Airport

Only 3 miles (5 kilometers) from MOA, MSP is one of the largest transportation hubs in the Midwest. More than 38 million people travel through the airport annually, and several airlines offer nonstop flights from locations across North America, Europe, and Asia.

Parking

No need to stress about meters or fees when parking at MOA—more than 20,000 free parking spaces (mostly covered) are available to make the Mall an easy travel destination. Parking ramps are located on the east and west sides of the Mall, and a surface lot is available at the north entrance.

Shuttle

Many Bloomington hotels offer complimentary shuttles to and from Mall of America—be sure to check with your hotel for availability and schedules.

Bus

The Twin Cities' Metro Transit System transports riders from Bloomington, Minneapolis, Saint Paul, and the surrounding metro. Public buses arrive and depart from the transit center at MOA, and all other buses (besides Mystic Lake Casino shuttles) drop off and pick up at the Mall's north entrance. For more information, visit MetroTransit.org.

Ride Share

Catch an Uber or Lyft at the north entrance, or east or west parking ramps of the Mall or at JW Marriott Minneapolis Mall of America or Radisson Blu Mall of America.
